CELEBRATING 40 YEARS OF ANDERSEN PRESS

CELEBRATING 40 YEARS OF ANDERSEN PRESS

Forty years ago Klaus Flugge founded a publishing house based on a desire to bring together the best authors and illustrators and put good quality books into the hands of children across the world. He launched the very first Andersen Press list with Goldilocks and the Three Bears, the debut picture book from Tony Ross and since then has launched the careers of many of today's most distinguished authors and illustrators.

We are celebrating our 40th birthday with some very special anniversary publishing so look out for new editions of some of our classic titles this Autumn. We thank you for your continued support and look forward to the next forty years of publishing great books!

Workhouse orphan William Jessop is saved from a life of drudgery by the arrival of a letter from his mysterious Uncle Seth, inviting him to his home in Wales. But the enormous house swarms with mysteries. What happened to Seth's wife Audrina, who vanished a year ago? Who is that sobbing in the dead of night? And what is hidden in a locked casket in the ruined chapel?

As William pieces together the answers, he begins to realise that Seth has invited him here for one reason only... and if he is to survive, he must accept help from unlikely quarters.

THE OTHERLIFE

The Otherlife is a place where beasts eat the sun and the Gods do battle with giants ... and there's no texting and coffee shops and Oyster cards and ... do you see? Everything is real.

Ben has a dark gift; he can see the Otherlife, a world of ancient Norse myths, wildness and danger. It means freedom from exams, warring parents, and everyone's impossible expectations. Then Ben meets Hobie, a charming, ruthless bully. He's a born mischief-maker who always gets away with it. Hobie has everything he could possibly want.

Except the Otherlife. And he'll do anything to be a part of it. Anything.

Shocking and richly imaginative, The Otherlife is about the darkest impulses within us all.

This energetic novel-in-verse by the poet Kwame Alexander captures all the thrills and setbacks, the action and emotion of a World Cup match.

OUT OF SHADOWS

The multi-award-winning novel is back with an all-new cover:

Zimbabwe, 1980s. The war is over, independence has been won and Robert Mugabe has come to power offering hope, land and freedom to black Africans. It is the end of the Old Way and the start of a promising new era. For Robert Jacklin, it's all new: new continent, new country, new school. And very quickly he learns that for some of his classmates, the sound of guns is still loud, and their battles rage on... white boys who want their old country back, not this new black African government.

Boys like Ivan. Clever, cunning Ivan. For him, there is still one last battle to fight, and he's taking it right to the very top.

'A powerful, devastating read for older teens'
PATRICK NESS, GUARDIAN

'Honest, brave and devastating – Out of Shadows is more than just memorable. It's impossible to look away.'
MARKUS ZUSAK

'Its unblinking portrait of true evil raises it above the norm ... It's something that schools should study and readers read. Bravo!' THE TIMES

Winner of the Costa, UKLA and Branford Boase awards

JASON WALLACE was born in Cheltenham but moved to London after his parents split up. Aged 12 his life was turned upside down when his mother remarried and the family emigrated to Zimbabwe. It was this experience in a tough boarding school during the aftermath of the war for independence that formed the foundation of his incredible debut novel. And he did actually meet Robert Mugabe when he visited his school. Jason now lives in London with his partner and son.
